Jeff loves two things: Chinese food and great wine. Lucky You Darling grew from the idea of bringing those two together in a way that feels relaxed, curious and a little unexpected.

Our Australian pairing features four wines we genuinely love drinking. Bright, textured, juicy and bold, they are a little taste of what Australian wine does best and have been chosen to work alongside the flavours of our food.

And then there is Chinese wine. Have you tried it before? If not, give it a go. China is producing some seriously exciting wines, from the high-altitude vineyards of Ningxia to the far west of Xinjiang. The quality might surprise you, the varieties are adventurous, and there is a whole wine world worth discovering.

We think good wine should be fun, not complicated. Pick a pairing, try something new and see where it takes you.
