2018 Xige Estate 西鸽酒庄 Cabernet Sauvignon, Cabernet Gernischt Ningxia 宁夏, CH

550

2021 JADE DOVE SINGLE VINEYARD CABERNET GERNISCHT, NINGXIA 宁夏, CH

185

Made from 100% Cabernet Gernischt grown in a single vineyard in Qingtongxia, on the eastern foothills of Ningxia's Helan Mountains. Full-bodied yet elegant and balanced, with fresh acidity, fine silky tannins and subtle notes of toast and smoke leading into a long, savoury finish. A distinctive and refined expression of Cabernet Gernischt and one of the standout wines of modern Ningxia.

China's wine story is one of the most exciting in the world right now. Across the desert foothills of Ningxia, the high-altitude vineyards of Yunnan and the far-western landscapes of Xinjiang, a new generation of winemakers is creating wines with real character and a strong sense of place.

In Ningxia, Silver Heights owner and winemaker Emma Gao has helped put the region on the map with expressive wines from her family estate. Bordeaux-trained Zhang Yanzhi founded Xige Estate to showcase the vineyards of Helan Mountain's eastern foothills. Former sommelier Ian Dai founded Xiao Pu in 2017 and now works as a "nomadic winemaker", following grapes across China and making playful, naturally fermented wines with freshness and drinkability at their heart. Farther west in Xinjiang, Puchang's chief winemaker Loris Tartaglia works with organically farmed vineyards near the Tian Shan mountains.

That mix of place, personality and experimentation comes through in the glass. You'll find familiar varieties such as Chardonnay, Cabernet Sauvignon and Pinot Noir alongside Marselan, Saperavi and adventurous field blends. Some wines are polished and classic; others are wild, savoury and playfully unexpected. What they share is freshness, texture and an ability to come alive alongside Chinese food.

If Chinese wine is new to you, start anywhere. Pick a glass, stay curious and discover something unexpected.
